

The Comprehensive Source for Allergy Education and Effective Allergen Avoidance Products

The Top Three Indoor Allergy Sources

Dust Mites

Mold

Pet Dander

Over 50 Million Americans Suffer from Allergies
Indoor allergens from dust mites, molds and pets cause allergies, the sixth leading cause of chronic disease in the U.S.

To Treat Allergies, Your Physician May Recommend a 3-Pronged Approach

Recommendations can include (1) Using allergen avoidance products to reduce allergen exposure; (2) Taking allergy medication to reduce symptoms; (3) Utilizing immunotherapy to reduce the allergic response and address the underlying condition.

Encasing Your Bed: The Primary Allergen Avoidance Step

Millions of allergy-causing dust mites are in a single bed. The National Institutes of Health recommends encasing the bed as the primary step to reduce allergen exposure.

Understanding Allergies

The Basic Facts on Allergies:

Allergies can bring about sneezing, congestion, watery eyes, wheezing and other tell-tale symptoms. If your physician has diagnosed you with allergies, you may be wondering what causes them and what the best steps are to decrease symptoms. Learning about allergies will help you understand the steps to take.

Understanding Pet Allergies

The Basic Facts on Pet Allergens:

Many people allergic to animals think the allergy is caused by the pet hair itself. Actually, it is caused by a protein present in the animal dander, which is made up of flaky skin cells and dried saliva.

Understanding Dust Mite Allergies

The Basic Facts on Dust Mites:

Dust mites are eight-legged arachnids and are relatives to spiders and ticks. Dust mites are microscopic so, unlike bed bugs, cannot be seen by the naked eye. A female dust mite can lay 25 to 50 eggs every 3 weeks, resulting in dust mite populations of up to 1 million inhabiting a single bed!

Understanding Mold Allergies

The Basic Facts on Mold Allergies:

Molds are microscopic fungi made up of clusters of filaments that decompose plant and animal matter for nourishment. Many molds reproduce by releasing spores into the air, which settle and grow into new mold clusters. These mold spores contribute to mold allergies.

BedCare™ Allergen Free Comforters

Our exclusive BedCare Barrier fabric exterior cover is a tightly woven 100% polyester microfiber with a 2.4-micron pore size that completely blocks dust mite and pet allergens, keeping you breathing easier all night long. When you rise, confidently fluff this comforter without the worry of allergens escaping. BedCare comforters feature a silky softness and breathability that our customers love, and its goose down-like fiberfill offers impressive warmth that reminds you of down but without the allergens.

Available in White, Navy and Ivory. Lifetime Warranty.

Healthy Dreams™ Germ Fighter Pillow

This Hypoallergenic pillow stops the growth of cold and flu germs, as well as mold and mite allergen, so you won't breathe in these harmful particles while you sleep! Most pillows begin growing mold, bacteria and dust mites soon after you start sleeping on them, and the problems only get worse over time. This happens because we breathe moisture into our pillows as we sleep. But we designed our exceptional Healthy Dreams allergy pillow with the Micrenza bio-filter to be the first truly germ-free, mold-free, and allergen-free pillow available, so you can sleep safely without breathing in harmful biological particles that cause congestion and infection. No other pillow has a filter to protect you. Medium firmness.

10-Year Warranty.

BedCare™ Hypoallergenic Fleece Blankets

Attractive blankets that can be washed in very hot water without any harm to the fabric are not easy to find. Polyester fleece blankets have been improved so much since they were introduced to the market many years ago that you would hardly recognize them now. Our BedCare fleece blankets, made with velour-like, micro-plush, 100% polyester fibers, do not shrink, pill or mat, even after repeated hot-water washing and drying. Unlike heavy wool blankets, these light-weight, all-season blankets can stay on your bed year round. 100% Satisfaction Guarantee.

Understanding Allergy Encasings

The most recommended step for relief from nighttime allergy symptoms is to encase your bed.

To make the best choice, you may be wondering whether to buy Allergy Control® encasings or to shop at the local superstore. Our encasings offer superior protection and comfort over those typically offered at your local store. We can ensure quality control as our encasings are manufactured by our own facility. Often many other brands are poorly made and therefore can't compare to our quality construction, long-term warranties, and superior allergy-proof fabrics of our Allergy Control® encasings.

National Institutes of Health
Allergy Prevention Strategies

The National Institutes of Health (NIH) outlines "Guidelines for Allergy & Asthma Prevention." These recommendations list encasing pillows and mattresses as one of the most important steps for allergen avoidance. The NIH recommends washing un-encased bedding every week in hot water to kill dust mites.

Measure Your Mattress

Using a ruler, measure carefully from the bottom edge of the mattress to the highest point on the top edge. Make sure to add extra depth for pillow top mattresses.

Simple Steps to Encase Your Bed

Zip encasing around pillow and cover with a pillowcase.

Fully unzip the encasing and pull it around one end of the mattress.

Zip fully around the mattress and place fitted sheet over the encasing.

Taking these steps at home can reduce allergens and provide helpful allergy relief.

ENCASE — Your #1 Priority for Allergy Relief!

For allergen avoidance scientific studies show the importance of covering pillows, mattresses, box springs, and comforters in allergy encasings to avoid inhaling allergens while sleeping. Dust mites thrive in any stuffed bedding so encasings are critical for finding nighttime symptom relief.

Allergy Control® BedCare CLASSIC

Ideal for box spring or kid's mattress. An economical choice with a water-resistant membrane lining for allergen protection.

BedCare™ All-Cotton Mite-Proof Pillow Protects You While You Sleep And Never Needs An Encasing!

Your protection from dust mites and their allergen is our primary concern, but your comfort and a good night's sleep are important, too. So we created a mite-proof pillow with a special 100% cotton fabric covering that is woven so tightly mites can't penetrate and make a home inside. Because the soft, specially constructed cotton fabric keeps out mites, the pillow never requires encasing yet stays mite-free. Pillows like ours that are made with other outer fabrics aren't as cool, comfortable and breathable as ours yet often cost more. So, start fresh with the pillow that stays fresh and mite-free, even without an encasing, as long as you own it. 100% polyester fiber fill. 7 1/2" loft.

Made in the U.S.A. 5-Year Warranty.

Allergy Control Starts Here

1 ENCASE

Scientific studies show the importance of covering pillows, mattresses, box springs and comforters in allergy encasings to avoid inhaling allergens while sleeping. Dust mites thrive in any stuffed bedding, so encasings are critical for finding nighttime symptom relief.

4 WASH

Wash linens, blankets and any un-encased bedding weekly in hot water to kill mites and remove allergens. If hot water is not possible, wash with a special allergen-removing laundry product.

2 CLEAN

Extend and prioritize cleaning throughout the home, using these 6 steps as a guide to minimize indoor allergens. Allergy sufferers should avoid being home when cleaning is done or wear a face mask when doing their own cleaning.

5 REMOVE

Remove, treat or clean carpet, curtains and upholstered furniture. Hardwood or tile floors, along with wipeable blinds and furniture (such as leather), are preferred. Treat carpet to remove allergens and clean with an allergen-trapping HEPA vacuum.

3 FILTER

HEPA filtration products and high efficiency MERV furnace filters are designed to offer advanced filtration of airborne allergens that pass through these filters to prevent allergens from circulating in the air in your home.

6 PURIFY

Airborne allergens, especially pet allergens, can be reduced by using an air cleaner. Dust mites and molds thrive in humid environments, so if you live in a humid area, buy a dehumidifier or use air conditioning. Keeping humidity levels between 35 - 40% and clean air reduces allergy symptoms.
